PAUL ORFALEA

After 30 years, Kinko's founder Paul Orfalea (pronounced OR-fah-la) retired from the company in the year 2000. Paul has started other businesses including a financial asset management and business investment firms. His time is now spent teaching at various universities, speaking with business groups, and talking with organizations about learning differences. Paul also advocates for family-friendly benefits, quality care for children of working parents and intergenerational programs.

In 2005, Paul co-wrote "Copy This! Lessons from a hyperactive dyslexic who turned a bright idea into one of America's best companies." This unique autobiography is filled with life lessons on overcoming obstacles and turning impediments into opportunities.

Please welcome Paul Orfalea.
